

13th SIRC

SINGAPORE INTERNATIONAL
REINSURANCE CONFERENCE

13th SIRC to tackle risk management amidst global uncertainties

The theme for the 13th SIRC, to be held from 2nd to 4th November at the now famous Marina Bay Sands, Singapore, has been set as “Managing Risks in an Uncertain World” to encapsulate the changes within and outside the reinsurance industry. Industry experts will focus on the various emerging risks and constant changes that are buffeting the world and the global insurance industry.

The conference will have two dedicated panels and four satellite sessions. This includes a High-Level Executive Panel on the theme; and a regulatory panel on The Changing Regulatory Landscape – How will Reinsurers Respond? The satellite sessions are: Does Size Matter in Reinsurance?; Innovating Reinsurance Solutions for the Changing Asian market; Impact of the ASEAN Economic Community on the Insurance Industry; and Rising Nat CATs in Asia: Providing the Right Solutions while Boosting Awareness and Demand.

Rising to the demands and feedback from past conferences, the 13th SIRC will be structured to allow for an extra day of networking, wherein the Lloyd’s Coffee House and respective bilateral meeting rooms will be fully functional for three days from 2 November.

The SIRC is considered to be the premier reinsurance event in Asia, drawing key decision makers and senior management executives within the insurance, reinsurance, broking and regulatory communities. The 12th SIRC had previously hosted some 940 delegates from 49 countries all over the world.

The 13th biennial run of the Conference is organised by the Singapore Reinsurers’ Association (SRA), together with the Reinsurance Brokers’ Association of Singapore (RBAS) and the Singapore College of Insurance (SCI), with Asia Insurance Review as its official media partner.
